Commissioner Hudson acted as Chairman of the meeting, and John F. Pafenbach, Administrator and Clerk of the Commission, acted as Clerk of the meeting. The chairman stated that a quorum was present and declared the meeting open for the transaction of business.

INVOCATION

The invocation was given by Dr. Charles Brown, Pastor of Government Street Baptist Church, Mobile, Alabama.

Jimmy Knight, Executive Director, Mobile Community Action Board, said his tenure was close to an end and he was happy to have worked with the County Commission and Administration staff for the past seventeen (17) years.

Mr. Knight said in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina, he called on the County Commission for assistance in providing services to citizens living in South Mobile County. He said Commissioner Dean helped the Mobile Community Action Board disburse $300,000.00 to citizens living in South Mobile County who were in need. Mr. Knight said the Mobile Community Action Board would not have been successful without Commissioner Dean's help and input. He presented a Certificate of Appreciation Award to Commissioner Dean in recognition of his outstanding performance and valuable services to citizens of South Mobile County.

Commissioner Dean said he was honored and it was a pleasure to receive the award. He said we never know how many lives we touch until times like this. Commissioner Dean said he could not have done the recovery from the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina without the Mobile Community Action Board and he said it was very important to keep them active in the community.

President Hudson asked Commissioner Ludgood if she had received any information on this item?

Commissioner Ludgood said she received a copy of the contract and asked what this service does and what kind of process was used to select PRA Government Services, LLC, d/b/a Revenue Discovery Systems (RDS)?

Gerald Stork, Comptroller, License Commission, said this service was used by municipalities in Mobile, Dauphin Island, Chickasaw, Semmes and Saraland. He said it would be used to collect taxes from those who were outside of the County and outside of the State of Alabama where their investigators could not investigate and collect taxes.

Commissioner Ludgood said the language of the agenda item reads that the service was for auditing and she asked if the service was going to collect taxes and not do auditing?

Mr. Stork said it would provide auditing service.

Commissioner Ludgood asked if the service would not be used for collecting taxes?

Mr. Stork said it would not be used to collect taxes.

President Hudson asked if the service would audit delinquent accounts?

September 26, 2012

Mr. Stork said yes.

President Hudson asked if the responsibility for collecting taxes would fall back on the County personnel after the audits were made.

Mr. Stork said yes.

Commissioner Ludgood asked if County personnel would collect the taxes once the auditing service identifies them?

Mr. Stork said yes.

Commissioner Ludgood asked if a Request for Proposals was done?

Mr. Stork said this company was the only agency that provides this service within the Mobile County area. He said the County would pay a lower rate because they were already auditing businesses in our area and that was one of the main reasons for choosing this company.

President Hudson asked if this company was chosen because of the deduction in rate and the bulking together of all the other entities which makes it easier for them to go ahead and do the auditing for the County?

Mr. Stork said yes.

Commissioner Ludgood said in the contract under Section 1A it read audit services will include compliance and enforcement activities and she asked what were the enforcement activities?

Mr. Stork said he does not know.

Commissioner Ludgood said the contract lists some examples: examination, investigation and verification of records. She asked if it was an auditing contract, why does the language in Section 1A have enforcement activities? Commissioner Ludgood asked for clarification on the enforcement activities because she does not want the service to bleed over into a collection contract. She said she does not have a problem with an auditing contract.

President Hudson asked if PRA Government Services, LLC, d/b/a Revenue Discovery Systems (RDS) does enforcement activities for the other entities or does the other entities do it themselves?

Mr. Stork said he was not sure.

Jay Ross, County Attorney, said some of the municipal jurisdictions use the service to audit and collect. He said License Commissioner Kim Hastie has the option to instruct and direct the services her office wants them to do.

President Hudson asked if the contract should specify that?

Mr. Ross said there was language in the contract instructing License Commissioner Hastie to choose which functions she wants them to do. He said the legal staff could have the contract specify the functions.

September 26, 2012

Commissioner Ludgood said the language needs to specify it as an auditing contract.

President Hudson asked if the service was only going to do the auditing, how would the enforcement and collection of delinquent taxes be followed up?

Commissioner Dean asked if there was a check and balance?

President Hudson said there was an appeal process. She asked if it would be the County's responsibility to follow up on the audited information?

Mr. Stork said yes.

Commissioner Ludgood asked how were they going to pay for it?

Mr. Stork said they would pay from the extra revenues generated from the audits. He said currently their investigators could not audit out of state.

Commissioner Ludgood said the County was creating an obligation with the source of repayment being speculative. She said the company charges an hourly rate for their auditing service and if they identify someone the County receives money, but if they have not identified someone, the County does not receive any money and would have to pay the hourly rate up front for the audit.

President Hudson said License Commissioner Hastie could negate the contract at her discretion at anytime, if it was not paying for itself she could terminate the contract immediately and she asked if that language was in the contract?

Martha Durant, Chief Staff Attorney, said the contract says if the hourly rate gets ahead of collections, License Commissioner Hastie has the option to withhold payment until they were caught up.

Commissioner Ludgood said if the County was going to front load the hourly rate for their auditing service before any collections were made, the Commission needs to know the amount.

Ms. Durant said the contract says the County does not have to pay for their service until there was enough collected to pay them, but the obligation for payment still remains.

President Hudson said they could approach it on a trial basis. She said based on what she was hearing from the other entities that utilize this service was that it has been beneficial and she would hate to see the Commission not take advantage of something that would provide benefits to the County. She said the obligation to make payments up front could cause budgetary consequences and they need to look at those issues and see if there was a way to mitigate them.

Commissioner Ludgood said she supports the auditing function because there were a lot of potential sources for some revenues that they have not been able to reach. She said the mechanics of it and the scope of work should be tightly drawn in the contract to be for auditing only.

Mr. Stork said okay.

She said for FY2012-2013 the Alabama Department of Youth Services (DYS) gave the James T. Strickland Youth Center an advanced award. Ms. Broadnax said the agreement for the current year was amended to include the first half of the funds for the next year.

She said the program would not start until FY2012-2013, but the funds were sent in advance and that was why it was listed separately. Ms. Broadnax said Agenda Item #31 was the second half of the agreement of the remaining funds for the FY2012-2013 transitions. She said they were awarded a total of $1,041,000.00 and the amended agreement included the funds for FY2011-2012. Ms. Broadnax said the funds were awarded for FY2011-2012 and half of FY2012-2013.

AGENDA #34

ADOPT RESOLUTION
APPROVE FY2013 BUDGET

The following is a synopsis of the comments made:

President Hudson said she received a question from License Commissioner Kim Hastie regarding the personnel line items in the FY2013 Budget. She asked Michelle Herman, Finance Director, to explain why was there a percentage increase in the personnel line items for various departments.

Ms. Herman said all departments received level funding in their personnel line items, but there were adjustments for insurance which was based on the number of employees in that department who had family coverage or single coverage. She said it was not a percentage increase, it was an increase to cover the insurance for those employees in that particular department. Ms. Herman said some of the departments received increases and others did not receive any increases because they had fewer employees with family insurance than last year. She said it was based upon the individual insurance policy holders and not a percentage. Ms. Herman said there were also increases to the personnel line items to accommodate the retirement the County has to pay on overtime and the largest recipient of that adjustment was the Sheriff's Department because they have a large overtime budget. She said other departments that have smaller overtime or no overtime were not charged.

Ms. Herman said in addition there were transfers between some subdepartments to move personnel from one department to another. She said for example, the Custodial Department had a large increase in one subdepartment and a large decrease in another subdepartment because of transfers between their departments. Ms. Herman said another example was parks, some of the parks had a large increase and some had a decrease, but if the operating and personnel amounts for all the parks were added up it would come out to level funding. Ms. Herman said Building Maintenance was also a department with many subdepartments who moves money from personnel to operations and operations to personnel, which causes increases and decreases, but it all nets out to level funding. She said there were many different reasons why a department might show an increase or decrease, but overall, it was level funding. Ms. Herman said if License Commissioner Hastie has specific questions, she would be happy to discuss them with her.

President Hudson thanked Ms. Herman, her staff, elected officials and department heads for their efforts and teamwork in the preparation of the FY2013 Budget.

Commissioner Dean thanked Ms. Herman, the Commissioners and his staff for the work they have done on the FY2013 Budget. He said they have been through a lot because of the budget crisis that has been felt nationally and statewide. Commissioner Dean said he was so proud that he would leave the Commission without them having to ask to transfer funds, raise taxes, request furloughs or layoffs. He thanked the elected officials for coming to the table to help out with the budget which would have been unprecedented twelve (12) years ago, he said communication was golden. Commissioner Dean said the elected officials were the ones who have to deal with their budgets on a day-to-day basis and the Commission does not micro-manage them and this is one thing the Commission prides itself on.

Joe Ruffer, County Engineer, asked if the upcoming capital improvement projects were reflected in the FY2013 Budget?

Ms. Herman said the FY2013 Budget reflects an estimated amount for the new Warrant Issue, but the specific projects using that money were not reflected in the budget.

Mr. Ruffer asked if the $10,000,000.00 in debt service in the General Fund include the Capital Improvement Plan?

Ms. Herman said the new Warrant Issue does include it and it would keep debt service at the Capital Improvement Plan level.

AGENDA #37

ADOPT SUPPLEMENTAL RESOLUTION TO THAT CERTAIN RESOLUTION
AND ORDER ADOPTED JULY 23, 2012 AUTHORIZING ISSUANCE
OF UP TO $25,000,000 PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF GENERAL
OBLIGATION IMPROVEMENT WARRANTS, SERIES 2012-C

The following is a synopsis of the comments made:

President Hudson asked if it includes the post-issuance compliance policy?

Preston Bolt, bond counsel, Hand Arendall LLC, said it only relates to the $25,000,000.00 General Obligation

September 26, 2012

Improvement Warrants, Series 2012-C. He said the post-issuance compliance policy was previously adopted by the Commission and Michelle Herman, Finance Director, asked him to look at it and update it. Mr. Bolt said it has been updated and the Commission could vote on it at anytime.

President Hudson asked if it was necessary for the Commission to vote on the post-issuance compliance policy today?

Michelle Herman, Finance Director, asked John Pafenbach, County Administrator, if he was going to place the post-issuance compliance policy at the end of the agenda as an add-on item?

Mr. Pafenbach said only if the Commissioners have had a chance to look at it.

President Hudson said the Commission has not looked at it and asked if it could be voted on in the next meeting?

Ms. Herman asked if Mr. Bolt could give the Commission a brief presentation on the post-issuance compliance policy.

President Hudson said yes.

Mr. Bolt said one of the most important reasons for the post-issuance compliance policy was that the governmental entity would actually know what it had accomplished. He said for those kind of issuances the federal tax code has a lot of requirements for maintaining a tax-exempt status. Mr. Bolt said the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) was focused on issuers of tax exempt obligations knowing what they were getting into and having policies in place to make sure they stay in compliance. He said for example; if the Commission approved a contract with a Mardi Gras organization to use the Government Plaza atrium or a portion of it, the use of it would be called a private business use which normally would be restricted under the tax code, but for this kind of use it would not be a problem; he said if the Commission transferred one of the County buildings that was financed or one of its improvements that was financed to a private entity that would violate the federal tax code, he said those were the kind of issues that would arise. Mr. Bolt said the policy was aimed to make sure good records were maintained on the use of proceeds, the use of County financed facilities and up-to-date monitoring on those records to make sure they stay in compliance. He said one of the ways the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) monitors a governmental entity was when a filing was made with them in connection with a post-issuance action. Mr. Bolt said if a governmental entity has a policy in place they would check the appropriate box that explains the reason for the issuance and if they do not have a policy in place their expectation should be to look for a call from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). He said there were more audits of those who did not have a policy in place or that did not keep it up and when the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) started asking them questions it caused them a lot of consternation in their attempt to give a response. Mr. Bolt said if the polices were in place and the records were kept up, it would make it much easier to respond to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) questions. He said at least once a year, the County must file a Continued Disclosure Annual Report which was required by the Securities and Exchange Commission in connection with every issuance. Mr. Bolt said it was now being done online with the Municipal Securities Rule Making Board and anyone could pull up that information which makes it very easy to monitor. He said if the reports were not being maintained and in addition certain interim reports were not being done it would show up and it would be possible that an investment banker hired to sell the bonds would not be able to because of the lack of compliance. Mr. Bolt said the previous post-issuance compliance policy the Commission already adopted was aimed at complying with those wishes, requirements and everything in place if the County was required to respond to questions from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). He said all he has done this year was make some minor edits and inserted one (1) additional provision concerning a change in use for the sale of a piece of property the County sold.

September 26, 2012

President Hudson asked if it was corrected to be in compliance with the law?

Mr. Bolt said yes.

(End of synopsis)

AGENDA #72

AUTHORIZE ADVERTISEMENT OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SUBDIVISION
REGULATIONS, MOBILE COUNTY, ALABAMA

The following is a synopsis of the comments made:

President Hudson asked why was a proposed amendment requested?

Kevin Boucher, County Staff Attorney, said there were too many major changes being proposed to the subdivision regulations. He said the issues the Engineering Department dealt with in the past were with smaller subdivisions where the owner was only dividing the lot into two (2) or three (3) parts. Mr. Boucher said the way it was currently drafted, if the subdivision owner lived on a dirt road he would have to pave the dirt road to subdivide one (1) or two (2) lots.

President Hudson asked if it was the property they already owned?

Mr. Boucher said yes and most of the time the owner was only carving out a piece of land to sell to someone, but the owner would retain their house, so the owner was only moving lines on their lot. He said if this issue occurred in the Big Creek Lake watershed, not only would the owner have to pave the dirt road, but they would also have to install detention facilities. Mr. Boucher said the constituents were very upset because they were not doing anything new just moving lines on a map. He said the two (2) changes the Engineering Department proposed to the subdivision regulations were preexisting dirt roads that show up on the year, 2006 aerial.

September 26, 2012

President Hudson asked if they had to exist before the year 2006?

Mr. Boucher said yes and in the year 2005 there was a typographical error in the document.

Commissioner Ludgood asked what happened in the year, 2006?

Mr. Boucher said the Engineering Department has the 2006 Mobile County aerial photography that shows existing dirt roads.

President Hudson asked if it proves that a dirt road existed?

Mr. Boucher said yes. He said if the Engineering Department has proof that a person lived on a pre-existing dirt road that existed in the year, 2006, that person could subdivide as long as they were not creating more than five (5) lots. Mr. Boucher said a person could subdivide five (5) lots or less on a preexisting dirt road and not have to pave the dirt road. He said if they were in the Big Creek Lake watershed dividing up the land into five (5) or less lots, they would not have to install detention facilities or pave the road. Mr. Boucher said that was the solution the Engineering Department and he came up with to address those issues before them.

President Hudson asked if larger scale developments that were building a subdivision that has five (5) plus lots be required to pave the roads?

Mr. Boucher said any new roads would have to be paved regardless of the number of lots in the subdivision. He said if six (6) or more lots were being developed the preexisting dirt road would have to be paved.

President Hudson asked if they would be required to create the drainage system and all that goes with it?

Mr. Boucher said yes.

Commissioner Ludgood asked if the Big Creek Lake was the only source of drinking water in Mobile County?

September 26, 2012

Mr. Boucher said he was not an expert in that area, but to his knowledge the Big Creek Lake was the only source of drinking water in Mobile County.

Commissioner Ludgood said in the subdivision regulations it speaks about drinking water sources and the only one the County has accepted was the Big Creek Lake watershed. She said the County has other watersheds and she asked if the Big Creek Lake was the only source of drinking water in Mobile County?

Joe Ruffer, County Engineer, said the Big Creek Lake was the only surface drinking water supply in the County. He said all of the little small ditches have underground water that comes from wells. Mr. Ruffer said the subdivision regulations were concerned with surface water runoff and not underground water.

President Hudson said it was a very small scale and primarily within families who wanted to subdivide their lot and she asked if that has been the experience so far? She said when families came to the County to subdivide their lot they were told that they had to pave the road and install a drainage system.

Mr. Boucher said they have family subdivisions which were exempt from the subdivision regulations and the family wants to sell a piece of land to a non-family member; this was when the County tells them they must comply with the subdivision regulations because that exemption no longer applies. He said that scenario created part of the problem they have to address.

President Hudson asked if it was separating the very small scale of developments from large ones?

Mr. Boucher said yes.

President Hudson said it does not violate the intent to protect the watersheds with correct drainage precautions in the larger developments and she asked if that was correct?

Mr. Boucher said yes.

Commissioner Ludgood asked if it was going to cause an expectation from the people that the County would pave their roads? She said the driving force for the subdivision regulations was that the developers who were building the subdivisions told perspective property owners that the County was going to pave the roads. Commissioner Ludgood said when the property owners moved into those homes in the subdivisions they found out that the developers told them an untruth about the County paving the roads. She said they came to the Commission upset and angry because the County was not paving their roads.

Mr. Boucher said the County would be allowing more people to live on dirt roads and whether they would come to the County or want to retain control of those roads themselves he could not speak on it. He said when a lot was divided into four (4) or five (5) lots by definition, more people would be living on dirt roads.

Commissioner Ludgood said it seems like a way to get the County back into the dirt road business and she had thought that was what they were trying to get out of.

President Hudson said the law states prior to the year, 1986, was the cutoff point for any consideration of acceptance of dirt roads for County maintenance and she asked if that was correct?

Mr. Boucher said yes.

Commissioner Ludgood said there was a very detailed process where they could come to the Commission and request the County to pave their road.

President Hudson asked if anyone has gone through this process and had their roads accepted since this legislation passed?

Mr. Boucher said not to his knowledge.

Mr. Ruffer said if she was referring to the Dirt Road Acceptance Act, they have done many of those, but they have not done any lately because they do not meet the criteria. He said some of them were paved under the Pay-As-You-Go Road Program.

President Hudson asked if they were in existence prior to the year 1986?

Mr. Ruffer said yes.

Commissioner Ludgood said Item 4.5 Drainage Easements reads that "under the current rules we require a subdivision to have adequate storm water collection system." She asked if that was no longer required for the minor subdivisions?

Mr. Boucher said it was still required. He said the County could still require drainage detention facilities if the engineering standards suggested it was needed, those standards have not changed.

Commissioner Ludgood asked if it does not have to be a detention pond and could another kind of mechanism be used?

Mr. Boucher said yes. He said the subdivision regulations as they stand today would require the Big Creek Lake watershed to have detention facilities. Mr. Boucher said they have changed it from being mandatory on minor subdivisions, but if it was needed they would be made to do it, he said it was not mandatory across the board.

September 26, 2012

Commissioner Ludgood asked if a detention facility was indicated, would the County still require it?

Mr. Boucher said yes.

President Hudson asked if it creates a problem with runoff in the surrounding properties would it be standard procedure to require detention facilities?

Mr. Boucher said their attention was focused on access to the public roads and not the surrounding properties. He said if the drainage was going toward the roadway and there was significant runoff, and the Engineering Department's standards may require detention facilities that would not change in the subdivision regulations.

Richard A. Mitchell, Deputy Public Works Director, said Section 3.55 states that if the engineering requirements dictate that detention facilities would be appropriate, then they may be required by County Engineering.

President Hudson said it gives flexibility. She asked if it does not dictate it has to have a drainage installed, it gives County Engineering the flexibility to waive it?

Mr. Mitchell said yes.

Commissioner Ludgood asked why did County Engineering put the Watershed in Section 3.55 rather Section 8?

Mr. Boucher said he wanted to make sure it was limited just to the minor roads in the minor subdivisions.

Commissioner Ludgood asked if Section 8 needed any language that said except for what was provided in Section 3.55, because Section 8 reads as if it was a requirement?

Mr. Boucher said it was written that minor roads were accepted from Section 8, but he could certainly put it in there.

Commissioner Ludgood said when she read Section 8, it did not have the exception language.

President Hudson said they could make it contingent upon adding that exception language.

Commissioner Ludgood asked if this item was only authorizing advertisement?

Mr. Boucher said yes.

(End of synopsis)

President Hudson moved, seconded by Commissioner Ludgood, that the Board authorize advertising proposed amendment to the Subdivision Regulations Mobile County, Alabama adopted December 13, 2004 and amended April 26, 2006,

September 26, 2012

contingent upon inclusion of exception language.

AGENDA #73

APPROVE ANNUAL WORK ORDERS

The following is a synopsis of the comments made:

President Hudson asked if this item was an additional expense to the County?

Joe Ruffer, County Engineer, said the municipalities pay the operators directly, but the County absorbs the wear, tear and field cost on the equipment.

President Hudson asked if it was standard that the County does it every year?

Mr. Ruffer said yes.

President Hudson said it was a great benefit to the municipalities and as long as the County could absorb the cost it was fine.
